About LCB

Laksamana College of Business (LCB) was established in 2003 in partnership with the Kensington College of Business (KCB) in London, UK and Abdul Razak Holdings, Brunei Darussalam. At LCB students are able to study a variety of business and business related courses. One of our very popular programmes is the Academic Pathway, which is accredited by the Brunei Ministry of Education.

Through the Academic Pathway programme, students are able to take the University Foundation Course (UFC) and the BA Common Year 1 over a duration of two years at LCB. Once completed, students are able to continue their studies and complete a degree by studying for only a further two years in the United Kingdom. The BA Common Year 1 programme is recognised by many leading UK universities including The University of South Wales, Aberystwyth University, Keele University, and the well-known University College, Birmingham, amongst many other prominent UK universities.

However, not only is this a great opportunity to study in the UK available to Bruneian students, we have also extended this opportunity to international students, and mature students working in the private sector in Brunei. They are able to take advantage of this opening by completing one of our professional courses - the KCB Diploma in Business Management.

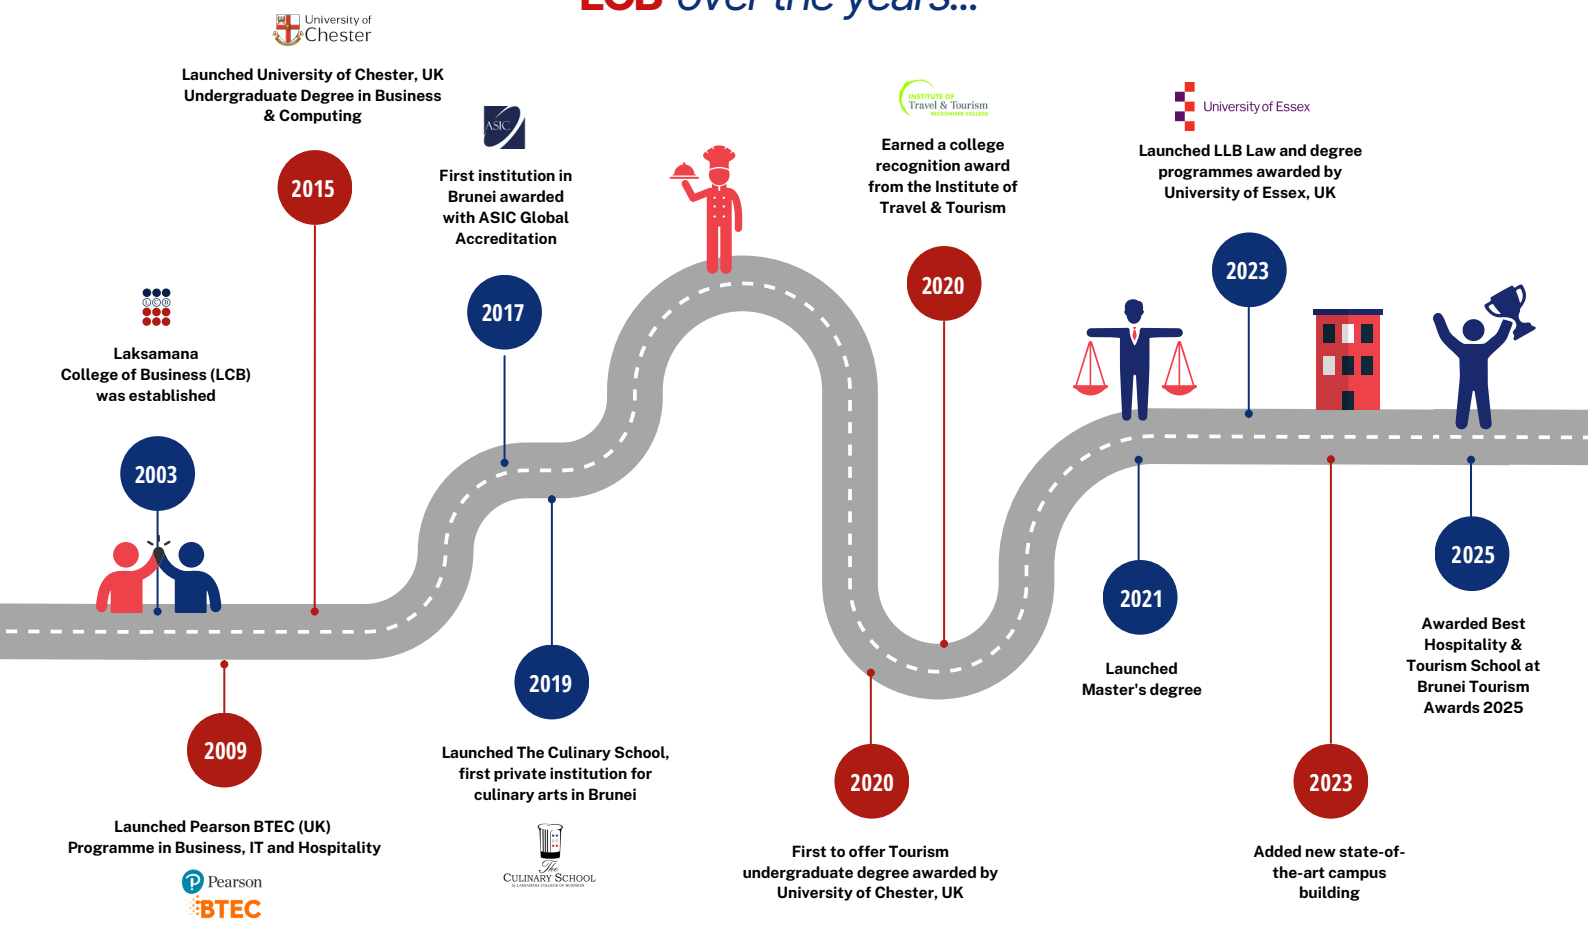

We at LCB are never satisfied and are always looking for ways in which we can meet our students' needs.

With the launch of the Pearson BTEC (UK) Diploma, HNC and HND computing programmes, we endeavour to establish our college as a leading provider in Brunei of IT and computing related courses. For those students looking to enter the growing hospitality industry we offer the Pearson BTEC in Hospitality Management.

Recognising the challenges and the expense of studying abroad, in 2015 LCB officially started providing degree courses locally. In 2023, our exceptional three-year degrees are awarded by the University of Essex, UK. So, when students join LCB, they are in fact joining a partnership, which includes the outstanding University of Essex too! The degree courses at LCB include the BSc (Hons) Computer Science, BA (Hons) Accounting and Finance, BA (Hons) Business Management, BA (Hons) Marketing, BA (Hons) International Tourism Management and the latest addition of LLB Law.

Kensington College of Business

The College was established in 1982, and initially located at Kensington {hence the name}, as a result of the realisation that Business Management was not served by high-quality professional training courses in the same way as parallel professions such as Law and Accountancy had already been for many decades. This conviction has continued to shape the way the College works up to the present day.

The College sought out the best of the relevant external qualifications then available and offered its own complementary material and diplomas concurrently, but also constantly looked for opportunities for exposure to real-life corporate culture, positioning itself as a specialist business school providing training for the managers of the future.

The College was one of the very first independent colleges to be approved as a degree course provider by Act of Parliament originating from the UK Government's Department of Education. Over time the College has offered foundation degrees, Bachelor's degrees and Masters degrees with around a dozen UK Universities. It soon began including courses preparing for the traditional liberal profession of Law and Accountancy, which had been its model when it was founded, as well as in Computing. It is worth noting that throughout these developments, the College has continued to offer its own specialised diplomas and that these have not only enjoyed wide professional currency, but have been recognised for admission or advanced standing by around twenty UK universities.

In 2003, working closely with local partners, the College established its sister institution in Brunei Darussalam, Laksamana College of Business (LCB), which has since developed into one of the highest-ranked private higher education institutions in the country. Building on this international foundation, the College is now advancing an initiative that will allow British and international students to divide their studies between its London and Brunei campuses, creating a genuinely transnational learning experience.

As part of its continued evolution and global strategy, KCB Global was formally established as a dedicated entity in 2025 to expand the College's international professional education reach. Developed from the long-standing academic expertise of Kensington College of Business, KCB Global was created to provide a more specialised and globally accessible platform focused on governance, compliance, and corporate leadership education.

Designed to serve working professionals worldwide, KCB Global delivers flexible, tutor-led online programmes that combine academic rigour with practical industry application. Its strong alignment with the Chartered Governance Institute UK & Ireland pathway ensures students are prepared for internationally recognised professional qualifications in corporate governance and company secretarial practice. In addition, postgraduate collaborations with institutions such as the University of Essex enable learners to achieve advanced academic awards alongside professional recognition.

Abdul Razak Holdings

Since October 1978, Abdul Razak Holdings has been providing quality property development and hotel operations in Brunei Darussalam as well as other parts of the world. Within Brunei, Abdul Razak Holdings is one of the largest private property developers with many commercial and residential properties and several blocks of shop-houses and apartments in the city centre, Seria and Kuala Belait. The Company also has investments in London.

Abdul Razak Holdings is best known for its Abdul Razak Complex, a 24 acre planned development in bustling Gadong. The development includes over 100 shop-house units, a 10-storey condominium building, Gadong Centrepoint at the Mall.

The Company was formerly headed by the late Pehin Orang Kaya Ratna Setia Dato Setia Haji Awang Abdul Hapidz bin Pehin Orang Kaya Laksamana Hj Abdul Razak who was the President of the Malay Brunei Darussalam Chamber of Commerce and Industry from 1964 to 1999.

Message from Mr Ian Pirie,

Director / Principal of LCB

Welcome to Laksamana College of Business.

Kensington College of Business (KCB) has been a very familiar institution with Bruneian students in fulfilling their needs for further education. In this on-going process we have built a good relationship with students and their parents and in appreciation of the enthusiasm shown, we take great pleasure in establishing KCB in your country under the name Laksamana College of Business (LCB).

For our Brunei College, we have developed comprehensive courses which meet current needs such as Academic and Professional Business Courses.

There are 2 main routes for those who want to pursue a career in Business:

- Take a Professional Qualification, e.g. KCB Diploma, which trains the students for specific careers in Administration, Marketing/Finance, etc.
- Take a bachelor's degree (BA), which provides a high level of education and so prepares the students for a career in any area of business.

Although both of these routes will naturally inspire students to achieve top management positions, the completion of education can be achieved by continuation on to an MBA or MSc in KCB London.

At KCB we offer both routes and our courses and facilities have been inspected and approved by Professional Associations, Universities, Employers and Students Worldwide.

Remember, this is one small step in realising your big dreams and we are proud to have been there for you.

Message from Dr. S Sivarajah,

CEO / Deputy Principal of LCB

Laksamana College was founded in 2003 to provide the next generation of Bruneians with training and exposure to the world of business. Today, as the government is calling for diversification due to the oil price, the mandate of training the next generation of entrepreneurs has never been more urgent and significant. How has Laksamana College responded to this?

As YB Pehin Hapidz stated in his founding statement, since our inception, developing entrepreneurs has always been the core of our existence. At Laksamana College, we encourage students to not only consider careers with the government. We constantly challenge students to identify opportunities; to ask the question about what the market needs; and then find solutions that will fill the gaps. Regarding this, we are actively engaged with the business community through BBBF (British Brunei Business Forum) in trying to establish dialogues; and conducting sessions on our premises to share the latest practical and market knowledge with our students.

We are a forward-thinking higher education institution aiming to prepare our students for a quickly-changing world. We equip our students with 21st Century skills, critical thinking skills, global perspective, and respect for core Brunei values of honesty, integrity, loyalty, and compassion. Developing these skills is at the heart of the education we offer. Students will have success for today and be prepared for tomorrow.

We desire to create an educational atmosphere that students will love being around. Our programs are intended to empower students to tackle challenges and take on experiences that may be new to them. At Laksamana College of Business, we are constantly striving to make learning fun and dynamic so that all of our students can accomplish their goals.

My journey with LCB started from their University Foundation Course. Through out the 4 years I had experienced nothing but kindness from all the staff and my peers. I believe LCB has successfully built an environment that has made it accessible for students to express themselves without prejudice and judgement. This environment combined with their renowned lecturers, produced an exceptional culture, that not only helped me in my studies, but built up my confidence as well. Knowing that I have a safe space in LCB, and staff's kindness demolished any fears of mine to ask questions and raise concerns. Apart from that, their initiative to hold extra curriculum classes, where they invite people from all different backgrounds to show their experiences, has expanded my views on what is possible beyond traditional beliefs. I trust LCB's standards are what is needed to shape the future, as well as teach me on how to create mine.

Studying Hospitality has been a really meaningful experience for me. Throughout this course, I've learned that hospitality isn't just about serving people — it's about being patient, kind, and putting your heart into what you do. During my internship at Abdul Razak Hotel Apartments doing housekeeping and later working as a waitress at the Radisson Hotel, I learnt a lot about real working life. I'm extremely thankful to my lecturers for their support, my classmates for all the fun times, and my family for always being there for me.
